By Cambridge Assessment International Education, UK

Cambridge International Diploma in Teaching and Learning (CIDTL)

Offered by Cambridge Assessment International Education

About the Programme

The Cambridge International Diploma in Teaching and Learning (CIDTL) is designed and quality-assured by Cambridge Assessment International Education, one of the world's most respected institutions in teacher education and delivered by Indus Training and Research Institute (ITARI), Bangalore.

The programme aims to develop highly skilled teachers who are Committed, Creative, and Confident. It empowers educators to take charge of their professional growth by deepening their subject expertise and pedagogical understanding to support the holistic development of every learner.

Through the programme, educators build the capacity to respond proactively and flexibly to changing educational contexts. Graduates emerge as teacher-leaders with the ability to think critically, innovate, and influence teaching and learning across diverse educational settings. They are also prepared to further their career in Cambridge Board Schools & National Board Schools while gaining an internationally respected Diploma.

Learning Experience

- Programme Office: Indus Training and Research Institute, Bangalore.
- Mode of Learning: Online, 2 evening classes per week.
- Certifying Institution: Cambridge Assessment International Education.

Participants engage in a blend of research-based learning, collaborative inquiry, and reflective practice. The course fosters research-mindedness, objectivity, humane-thinking, and innovation-mindedness, encouraging educators to learn, unlearn, and relearn continuously.

Throughout the programme, participants become part of strong communities of practice that nurture collaboration, creative and critical thinking, communication, and empathy. These experiences build not only professional competence but also deepen the teacher's personal values of love, respect, and discipline, shaping them into reflective and compassionate educators.

Participants also upskill with guidance from experienced mentors, ensuring continuous growth and practical support in their teaching journey.

Programme Modules

Module I – Understanding Teaching & Learning

Explore the core principles of how learners develop and engage in diverse educational settings. Strengthen your inquiry skills and research-mindedness as you examine the interplay between theory, practice, and learner needs.

Module II – Teaching Learning in Action

Put your learning into action through classroom-based inquiry. Use data, reflection, and collaboration to enhance teaching strategies, while integrating creative and critical thinking into everyday practice.

Module III – Professional Development in Teaching

Reflect deeply on your growth as a professional educator. Develop innovation-mindedness, humane-thinking, and objectivity as you design pathways for lifelong learning and professional leadership.

Each module is designed to inspire inquiry, creativity, and a deep understanding of one's professional and ethical values, while preparing participants for leadership opportunities and career advancement.
